Wine List

Italy is one of the largest wine producing countries in the world and the wine list at Fratello's is a reflection of this, offering a vast selection of carefully chosen Italian wines. Amongst these are the traditional Italian wines recognised throughout the world but also introducing a new generation of producers, who, on reflection of their innovative preparation and spirit, have positioned themselves amongst the finest in the international market place.

The Fratello's wine list is presented to you showing a variety of different Italian grapes, some of which are very rare, as well as other international varieties that have been present in Italy for over a century, particularly in the north. We take great pleasure in presenting you with these wines and assisting you with your discovery.
